

retro return

trends of the past that have made a return

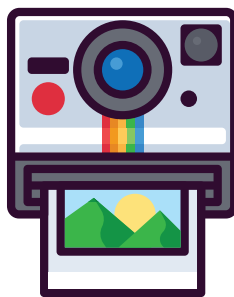

straight leg & flare jeans

The 70's and 90's are back! Retro jeans are the new thing and changing constantly. Different washes and styles are ruling the fashion world.

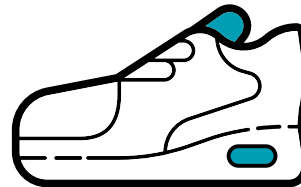

scrunchie

From the 80's to today the scrunchie is still alive! After disappearing for a while, the scrunchie has made a return and is extremely beneficial for your hair.

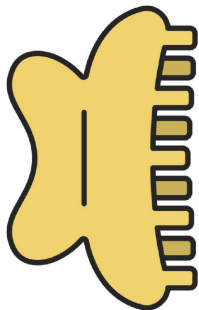

polaroid cameras

Polaroid cameras have yet to have a decline from their creation in 1948. Many believe this is due to the element of surprise and convenience.

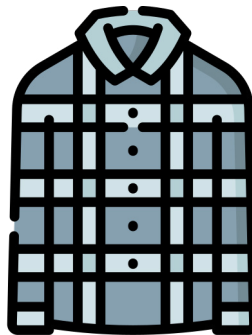

chunky sneakers

The chunky sneaker just keeps getting bigger. Many believe this trend keeps growing in attempts to stand out while keeping the vintage feel.

claw clips

Claw clips are perfect to throw your hair up for an easy hair style. The claw clip is originally from the 90's and has made a comeback.

plaid

The 90's flannel trend is back for both guys and girls. Fitting in with the "grunge era" the flannel has expanded to an everyday fashion look.

go! go! go!

The 60's impact is reaching all the way to 2022 with variations of the classic go-go boot. The go-go boot is considered an essential to women's fashion in the 60's and is creating a name for itself today.

The original boot was low heeled, white, and mid-calf length. Today, it is often that the length is at the ankle or knee. The heel has gotten bigger and the boot can be seen in any color or pattern combination. As disco died so did the go-go boot until today where many sport a variation on a daily basis.