Congratulations on your decision to publish your own book!

Done correctly, independent publishing can be both rewarding and successful. Countless authors, illustrators, photographers and other professionals have successfully published their own books, and you can too! This guide is designed to help you access important information when publishing a book. It is not a complete guide. For comprehensive self-publishing information visit Friesens website: friesens.com

BEFORE REQUESTING A QUOTE, CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING:

- Book trim size – e.g. 6 x 9, 10 x 12, etc.
- Page count (usually divisible by 16, 32 or 48 depending on book size)
- Book quantity (lower quantities can be run digitally—higher runs on offset presses)
- Text color, black & white, both or other
- Soft cover, hard cover, or both
- Hard cover with or without a dust jacket
- Paper – gloss, matte, offset/uncoated, etc.

ISBN NUMBERS

All books require an ISBN (International Standard Book Number). Without an ISBN you can not market your book to bookstores and libraries. Each book edition (e.g. hard cover, soft cover, audio, etc.) requires its own ISBN. ISBN numbers are available either individually or in blocks of 10, 100 or 1,000 through R. R. Bowker:

www.bowker.com

- Order an ISBN (once you start your book)
- Place the ISBN on the copyright page of your book and also above the bar code (see below) on the back cover or jacket cover
- Include the ISBN on any advertising/promotional material
- Don't purchase an ISBN from another publisher. Such ISBN numbers identify the publisher to whom it was issued – not you.

TIPS

GENERAL SELF-PUBLISHING TIPS

- Hire a professional editor
- Hire a professional graphic designer (text and cover).
- Use Adobe Indesign or PDF's when submitting files for printing,
- At Friesens, we manufacture books for many of the largest and most prestigious publishers worldwide. We also print books for many independent publishers and use both digital and offset print technology.

BAR CODES

Once you have an ISBN, you'll need a Bookland EAN bar code. This bar code identifies the ISBN, publisher, book title, author and edition. It should be printed on the lower half of the outside back cover on hard cover and soft cover books or on the inside front cover of mass-market paperback books. Bookland EAN bar codes are generally ordered through cover designers and are also available at Friesens.

If your intention is to sell your book to mass merchandisers or stores other than bookstores, you may need a UPC (Uniform Product Code) bar code. These are available through the Uniform Code Council: www.uc-council.org

LCCN/CIP NUMBER

If you plan to sell your book to libraries, you will need a LCCN (Library of Congress Catalog Number). The LCCN will assign a library cataloguing number to your book. For a LCCN, go to: loc.gov/publish/pcn/

- Place the LCCN on the copyright page of your book. For correct placement, consult the copyright page in books published by major publishers
- Order the LCCN when you are typesetting your book
- Once your book is printed, send two copies to:

Library of Congress
Cataloguing in Publication Division
Washington, DC 20540

Note: A CIP (Cataloguing in Publication) number is often also used for library cataloguing, however, the CIP program excludes self-publishers and publishers with fewer than three (self-authored) books.

BOOKS IN PRINT

If you wish for North American booksellers and librarians to find you (once you know your final page number), sign up at R. R. Bowkers website: www.booksinprint.com/bip. There you can register your book and have it categorized by selecting appropriate BISAC (Book Industry Subject and Category) codes.

COPYRIGHT

Copyright establishes your work as yours, protecting it from others. For copyright information and an application go to: www.copyright.gov
